Compounds with some and any
Zusammensetzungen mit some und any – Regeln und Übungen

Regeln:
Du benutzt some in positiven Sätzen und any in verneinten Sätzen und in Fragen. Dies gilt auch für die Zusammensetzungen (somebody und anybody / someone und anyone / something und anything / somewhere und anywhere / …)

Hinweis: Someone wird verwendet, wenn wir die Person nicht kennen und es viele Personen gibt, die in Frage kommen. Somebody wird verwendet, wenn man sich an eine Person aus einem kleinen Kreis in Frage kommender Personen wendet. (Beispiel: Auswahl beschränkt auf Klassenkameraden / Familienmitglieder)

Besonderheiten:
1. Bei Angeboten und Bitten verwendet man some (und seine Zusammensetzungen / Compounds) auch in Fragen!
   - „Would you like some cheese?“ – Angebot
   - „Could you pass me some salt, please?“ – Bitte
   Man geht hier von einer positiven Antwort aus, beziehungsweise würde man das Angebot ja nicht zurückziehen.

2. In Verbindung mit: never, without und hardly wird any auch in positiven Sätzen verwendet.
   - Peter is old enough to do his homework without any help.
